To Advertisers.—The VERMONT DAILY TRANSCRIPT has the largest circulation in St. Albans and in Franklin County, of any daily paper, and is on that account, if no other, the best medium for advertising.

Local Items.

OUR DAILY.—Those wishing to secure copies of our daily paper can do so at Merrifield's and Baker's bookstores, as well as of carriers, and at the office. Copies of our weekly paper may also be had at these places.

THEFT.—On Tuesday morning a French boy named Alphonso Marcellis, who had been living on the generosity of Mr. Edward Brigham, of this town, stole a pocket book containing $70.00 from his pantaloons, which were hanging up in a closet. The following day Mr. Brigham missed the money, applied to policeman Downing to assist him in the arrest of the thief and the recovery of the money. Mr. Downing ascertained that Marcellis had purchased a ticket for Montreal, proceeded, in company with Mr. Brigham, to that city, and from there to St. Eustache, where the thief was found. Mr. D. convinced the young man that he ought to give up the stolen funds, which he did, minus about $12, that he had spent.

SOMETHING NEW FOR CHRISTMAS, at H. L. Samson & Co's. Toys of all kinds. Large stock of confectionery—wholesale and retail. Splendid stock of meerschaum pipes, remember.

ENTRE-NOUS.—The last of the first half of the series of social dances under the auspices of this Club was enjoyed last evening, at the Academy Hall, by a large gathering of the society. Over sixty-five couples were present. The music under the direction of Mr. G. E. Kinsley, was delightful, and everything passed off pleasantly.

THE MINSTRELS.—Whitmore and Clark's Minstrels arrived on the accommodation train this forenoon, from Burlington. The band paraded the streets and made a fine display. This troupe will appear to-night at Academy Hall, no doubt before a crowded house. Go and hear them.

YOU WILL FIND AT THE Lake St. Drug Store a full assortment of fancy goods for the holidays.

ABSCONDING CLERK.—John Quimby a clerk in the United States and Canada Express Office at Ogdensburg, of which Mr. C. P. Geer, is the local agent, quietly left the office one day last week with $2,000. One thousand dollars of this money belonged to Mr. Geer, and the balance to the Express Company. Up to this time no traces have been obtained of the whereabouts of Mr. Quimby.

A PRESENT TO MR. ATKINS.—A Republican confectioner has presented Mr. Atkins, of the Montpelier Argus, with a candy rooster, which he handsomely acknowledges and says: "When we return from our explorations at the head of Salt River, we shall bring the fowl back, and 'Isaac' will hear his lusty crowing as he takes up his march for that region."

Obituary.—The Montpelier Freeman announces the death of Charles Loomis, Esq., of consumption, which event took place at the residence of Joseph A. Prentiss, Esq., on Monday evening last. Mr. Loomis was a son of the late Hon. Judathan Loomis, of Montpelier. He was graduated at the University of Vermont in 1849, and afterward taught several years in the south. He studied law with the late Hon. F. E. Merrill of Montpelier, and was admitted to the practice of the profession in this country.

He has practiced law in Cleveland and Cincinnati, and latterly in New York city. He served honorably in the late war against treason, having entered the service early as a volunteer, was promoted to a captaincy, and afterward had a position on the staff of Gen. Stuart of Chicago, in which capacity he participated in the battles of Shiloh and Arkansas, Post, and various smaller engagements. He was in the service nearly two years, leaving when Gen. Stuart left. His superior officers, Gen. Sherman among them, have borne testimony to his bravery and good conduct as a soldier.

ability, and a genial, pleasant, entertaining gentleman whose death will be mourned by a large circle of friends. His health began to fail last summer, but he kept about his business until September, when the disease had made such progress that he came to his old home, in the vain hope that pure air and careful and loving attention would stay the progress of his malady. His decline has since been rapid.

Dr. R. G. Monroe, of Granville, N. Y., died on Wednesday morning, of consumption. He was a graduate of Castleton Medical college and commenced his professional life at West Pawlet, Vt. After several years of successful practice, and having gained an honorable position in his profession, he removed to Rutland, and became associated with Dr. D. E. Page, of Rutland, with whom he continued until his health began to fail; when he removed to Granville. The deceased held an honorable rank in his profession, and was possessed of qualities that commended him to those who came within the circle of his personal friendship.

Mr. Ira Ladd, of Monkton, died on Monday last, at the advanced age of 87 years. He was buried on Wednesday, with Masonic honors. Large delegations of the Order were present from surrounding towns. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Ingalls.

FULTON MARKET.—Just received, a nice lot of Dried Beef, Sugar Cured Hams, Bologna Sausage, Sweet Potatoes, Tomatoes, Peas, Peaches, Water Melons and Musk Melons. dtf-94.

VERMONTERS, note the advertisement of The Vermont Record and Farmer. Its publisher is an enterprising, wide-awake man. His paper, as a State paper, is worthy of patronage. Read the inducements.

Many years ago the writer of this notice and an invalid physician, while passing the Island of St. Croix for their health, experienced and witnessed many surprising and beneficial effects of the Rum there produced upon many of the invalids who were, like ourselves seeking health, and upon inquiry and investigation, obtained a full history of its medicinal virtues. He was delighted and surprised, and determined it the basis of a Tonic and Restorative Medicine. The result of his labors was a glorious success for himself and suffering humanity. The celebrated Plantation Bitters was thus made known to the world. Being an article of real merit, founded on new principles, and relying wholly upon the vegetable kingdom for its medicinal effects, it worked a rapid revolution in the treatment of physical debility.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

Endowed men of science have discovered that electricity and magnetism are developed in the system from the iron in the blood. This accounts for the debility, low spirits and lack of energy a person feels when this vital element becomes reduced. The Peruvian Syrup, a protoxide of iron, supplies the blood with its iron element and in the only form in which it is possible for it to enter the circulation.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HAIR PREPARATION, VALUED at home and abroad, a real Hair Restorer or Dressing, (in one bottle.) A great triumph of science. Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S IMPROVED, (new style.) Every Druggist sells it. Price one dollar.

A young lady writing to her mother from Europe says: "Send me a dozen bottles of 'Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorer.' What I took with me is all gone, and I cannot think of spoiling my hair by using any other." The judgment of all who have used Barrett's will confirm this lady's experience.—Boston Transcript.

GIFTS FOR THE HOLIDAYS AT Merrifield's Bookstore!

A Christmas Carol, to be sung by small girls and good-sized boys, between now and the Holidays.

By A Miserable Wretch, Esq.

Whom may the Fates reward with Immortality and Greenbacks.

This old Subscriber blows his horn, For Christmas day is nearly born, And Sixty-Eight soon makes his bow To take a sail in Claron's scow! Adieu, old Codger! Fare thee well! Thy joys and sorrows all can tell! We watch thy exit down Time's shore, And wish thee safe the billows o'er; But ere thou mak'st that journey long, Pray list unto my Christmas Song,

Come, Muse of Grim Cracks! thou must tell What J. M. MERRIFIELD has to sell, Shouldst thou return from market town, Take heed, O Muse! and "do it brown!" Yes, good Pegasus, thou canst sing Those Books and Toys he was to bring: From Psalm-book, to Tommy Thumb, Or Lancelot, Franklin, and the Sun! O my! I can't tell half to thee, Be wise and hasten there to see,

How shall I sing the gifts that greet The season? Zounds, they can't be beat! How shall I mention half the traps, He has to sell—from Kow to Kats? Those Parian Statuettes so fine Of gods, and heroes once divine! Such Lava-Ware, such goods in Bronze, Of Lancelot, Franklin, and the Sun! O my! I can't tell half to thee, Be wise and hasten there to see,

Ho! ye afflicted, He's for you—He's for you, ye "Mountain Dew" Powder Blasts just brought from Maine, Where nought but bread is made from grain! To smooth that brow of discontent He'll whisper, Pipe, a Testament, Or sell you Cards, or Sermons, bound In calf throughout; or many a sound "Ambrosia," and Harmonica, To keep your hair from turning gray!

For books to clog an upper shelf, He cannot suit you well himself, But points you, like an honest man, To Jones & Co's, or those who can. His books are fresh, and good, and new, For lawyer, parson, or for you. On every subject health the sun, From Metaphysics up to fun, Rich, rare, and racy are his goods, Though Bibles or Red Riding Hoods.

Those Roosters roost the living day, Those Tweezers twitch one's grief away, Those Pencils paint one's sweetheart true, With red eyes or cerulean blue. When I was a little child I loved my hair for "twould curl;" But as that failed to catch a beau, I donned a Mask and "let him go." This was deemed neither rude nor rough In my day, but "quite up to snuff."

Long years ago, one festive day, I met a small boy on his way To school. He drew upon his Sled His sister. The little fellow said "Mid solace—No Christmas Gifts had they Found in their poor socks! Far away And left his and himself forlorn!" Ere Christmas came next year, 'tis said, They both, with broken hearts, were dead!

Hear roguish Tom and lumpy May Sing with delight this holiday! Yet modest Ned (God help such dears), Neglected, sheds on Christmas-tears, (Of those who, ere the season, and laid, Such strains would give a saint the blues!) Sing, Dainties for young and old, And call in quick or they'll be sold! Run small, run great, run one, run all, Long dolls roll back their ears and squall!

There might my old nag jog along And sing to you an endless song; I'd tell of School-books, Pens and Sand, Tales of the sea and tales of land, (And Paper, Slates, and Ink, And everything that one can think; But time is precious now to me, And do not let me be deceived by thee. Hold! this one thing I long since should sell, His PLANCHETTES "ALL ARE RAISING NED!"
